III. JURISDICTION

This Court has original jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1337 over Plaintiffs' claims for unpaid wages, overtime, and retaliation under the Fair Labor Standards Act ("FLSA"). 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). This Court has supplemental jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a) over Plaintiffs' state law claims for violations of the minimum wage, overtime, retaliation, and spread-of-hours provisions of the New York Labor Law ("NYLL") § 190 et seq. and for common law battery.

IV. CLAIMS AND DEFENSES

A. Plaintiffs' Claims Remaining to be Tried

1. Federal Claims

a. Unpaid Minimum Wages under Federal Law

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs minimum wages as required by the FLSA and took unlawful deductions which reduced Plaintiffs' wages further below the statutory minimum. 29 U.S.C. § 206(a)(1). Plaintiffs seek their unpaid minimum wages, an equal amount in liquidated damages, reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, post-judgment interest, and such other relief as the Court may deem just and proper. 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

(i) Defendants' Position

Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs possess a valid claim under the FLSA to the extent that Plaintiffs are either: (a) not "employees", and thus, not covered under the FLSA; and/or, (2) were paid proper wages/compensation in accordance with the law. Furthermore, the above claim should be dismissed against Defendant Ruiz, as there is no evidence that Ruiz, an employee of Defendant Edita's Bar & Restaurant, Inc. ("Edita's"), had control over Plaintiffs' pay, or that Ruiz has an ownership interest in Defendant Edita's.

b. Unpaid Overtime under Federal Law

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs overtime as required by the FLSA. 29 U.S.C. § 207(a)(1). Plaintiffs seek their unpaid overtime, an equal amount in liquidated damages, reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, post-judgment interest, and such other relief as the Court may deem just and proper. 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

(i) Defendants' Position

Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs possess a valid claim under the FLSA to the extent that Plaintiffs are either: (a) not "employees", and thus, not covered under the FLSA; and/or, (2) were paid proper wages/compensation in accordance with the law. Furthermore, the above claim should be dismissed against Defendant Ruiz, as there is no evidence that Ruiz, an employee of Defendant Edita's Bar & Restaurant, Inc. ("Edita's"), had control over Plaintiffs' pay, or that Ruiz has an ownership interest in Defendant Edita's.

2. State Claims

a. Unpaid Minimum Wages under New York State Law

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs minimum wages as required by the NYLL. N.Y. Lab. Law § 652. Plaintiffs seek their unpaid minimum wages, liquidated damages of twenty-five percent, reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, pre- and post-judgment interest, and such other relief as the Court may deem just and proper. N.Y. Lab. Law § 663.

(i) Defendants' Position

Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs possess a valid claim under the NYLL to the extent that Plaintiffs are either: (a) not "employees", and thus, not covered under the NYLL; and/or, (2) were paid proper wages/compensation in accordance with the law. Furthermore, the above claim should be dismissed against Defendant Ruiz, as there is no evidence that Ruiz, an employee of

Defendant Edita's Bar & Restaurant, Inc. ("Edita's"), had control over Plaintiffs' pay, or that Ruiz has an ownership interest in Defendant Edita's.

b. Late Payment of Wages under New York State Law

Plaintiffs were "clerical or other workers" within the meaning of the NYLL. N.Y. Lab. Law § 190. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs at least semi-monthly as required by the NYLL. N.Y. Lab. Law § 191.

(i) Defendants' Position

Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs possess a valid claim under the NYLL to the extent that Plaintiffs are either: (a) not "employees", and thus, not covered under the NYLL; and/or, (2) were paid proper and timely wages/compensation in accordance with the law. Furthermore, the above claim should be dismissed against Defendant Ruiz, as there is no evidence that Ruiz, an employee of Defendant Edita's Bar & Restaurant, Inc. ("Edita's"), had control over Plaintiffs' pay, or that Ruiz has an ownership interest in Defendant Edita's.

c. Unpaid Overtime under New York State Law

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs overtime as required by the NYLL. N.Y. Comp. Codes R. & Regs. tit. 12 § 142-2.2. Plaintiffs seek their unpaid overtime, liquidated damages of twenty-five percent, reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, pre- and post-judgment interest, and such other relief as the Court may deem just and proper. N.Y. Lab. Law § 663.

(i) Defendants' Position

Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs possess a valid claim under the NYLL to the extent that Plaintiffs are either: (a) not "employees", and thus, not covered under the NYLL; and/or, (2) were paid proper wages/compensation in accordance with the law. Furthermore, the above claim should be dismissed against Defendant Ruiz, as there is no evidence that Ruiz, an employee of

Defendant Edita's Bar & Restaurant, Inc. ("Edita's"), had control over Plaintiffs' pay, or that Ruiz has an ownership interest in Defendant Edita's.

d. Unpaid Spread-of-Hours under New York State Law

Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs an extra hour's compensation at the minimum wage rate for days on which they worked more than ten hours. N.Y. Comp. Codes R. & Regs. tit. 12 § 142-2.4. Plaintiffs seek their unpaid spread-of-hours pay, liquidated damages of twenty-five percent, reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, pre- and post-judgment interest, and such other relief as the Court may deem just and proper. N.Y. Lab. Law § 663.

(i) Defendants' Position

Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs possess a valid claim under the NYLL to the extent that Plaintiffs are either: (a) not "employees", and thus, not covered under the NYLL; and/or, (2) were paid proper wages/compensation in accordance with the law. Furthermore, the above claim should be dismissed against Defendant Ruiz, as there is no evidence that Ruiz, an employee of Defendant Edita's Bar & Restaurant, Inc. ("Edita's"), had control over Plaintiffs' pay, or that Ruiz has an ownership interest in Defendant Edita's.

e. Unlawful Deductions under New York State Law

Plaintiffs Diana Trejos, Rosa Damaris Lopez, Berky Lopez, Liliana Ruiz Fierro, America Patricia Gonzalez, Floricelda Alonzo, Mercedes Bonifacio, Olfa Licet Velasquez, Grecia Nunez, Zulma Abrego, Nieve Lopez, Nancy Cruz, Yohanna Martinez, and Marcia Lora (the "Dancers" or "Dancer Plaintiffs") were "clerical or other workers" within the meaning of the NYLL. N.Y. Lab. Law § 190. Defendants took unauthorized deductions from the Dancers' wages in violation of N.Y. Lab. Law § 193. Defendants took additional deductions from Dancer Plaintiffs' wages in the form of unreimbursed uniform purchasing costs and laundering expenses in violation of N.Y. Comp. Codes R. & Regs. Tit. 12 § 142-3.5. The Dancers seek reimbursement for

unauthorized deductions, liquidated damages of twenty-five percent, reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, pre- and post-judgment interest, and such other relief as the Court may deem just and proper. N.Y. Lab. Law § 198.

(i) Defendants' Position

Defendants' dispute the Dancer Plaintiffs' entitlement to recovery for "unlawful deductions under New York State Law," as the Dancer Plaintiffs are not employees and are not considered "clerical or other workers" within the meaning of NYLL, and thus, are not entitled to reimbursement for fees charged by Edita's for allowing these independent workers access to Edita's in order to perform their work.

f. Battery under New York State Law

Defendant Luis Alberto Ruiz committed battery against Plaintiffs Diana Trejos, Rosa Damaris Lopez, Berky Lopez, and Liliana Ruiz Fierro within the meaning of New York common law. See, e.g., Girden v. Sandals Intern., 262 F.3d 195, 203 (2d Cir. 2001). Plaintiffs Trejos, R. Lopez, B. Lopez, and Fierro seek compensatory and punitive damages.

(i) Defendants' Position

Defendants dispute that Defendant Luis Alberto Ruiz committed battery against any of the named Plaintiffs. Furthermore, this claim should be dismissed against Edita's Bar and Restaurant, Inc. and Edith D'Angelo, as even if it is determined that Ruiz engaged in battery (which he did not) such action was not taken in the course of his performing his normal job duties and responsibilities, and cannot be attributed to Edita's Bar and Restaurant, Inc. or Edith D'Angelo, individually.

B. Plaintiffs' Claims No Longer to be Tried

1. Collective Action under Federal Law

Plaintiffs originally brought their FLSA minimum wage and overtime claims as collective action claims on behalf of themselves and other similarly situated. 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). Plaintiffs hereby withdraw the collective action aspect of their FLSA claims so that no FLSA minimum wage or overtime claims are to be tried on behalf of non-party employees similarly situated to Plaintiffs.

2. Claims Brought by Non-Dancer Plaintiffs

Plaintiffs Widmar Mejia, Edwin Yepes, Arnaldo Pereira, Hugo Ramirez, Alberto Martinez Nunez, Jorge Gonzalez Lupi, and Fidel Andrango (the "Non-Dancer Plaintiffs") originally brought claims for (i) unpaid minimum wages and overtime under the FLSA and NYLL, (ii) late payment of wages, (iii) unpaid spread-of-hours, (iv) unlawful deductions under the NYLL, and (v) for Plaintiff Widmar Mejia, retaliation under the FLSA and the NYLL. The Non-Dancer Plaintiffs sought all applicable damages, costs and attorneys' fees. The claims set forth by the Non-Dancer Plaintiffs are set forth in the parties' original Proposed Joint Pretrial Order filed on March 4, 2011 (See Dkt. No. 89).

Since the original Proposed Joint Pretrial Order was filed in March 4, 2011, the Non-Dancer Plaintiffs and Defendants have agreed to settle all claims brought on behalf of the Non-Dancer Plaintiffs. are to be withdrawn if various confidential conditions are satisfied prior to the beginning of trial. If such conditions are not satisfied, however, the Non-Dancer Plaintiffs fully reserve their right to try these claims at trial as set forth in the parties' original Proposed Joint Pretrial Order. The Non- Dancer Plaintiffs and Defendants are still working out the details of the settlement but are hopefully that an agreement will be executed on or before July 22, 2011. To the extent an agreement is executed and certain other terms are met, as provided for in the settlement agreement, the parties will submit a stipulation and partial order of dismissal, dismissing all claims brought by the Non-Dancer Plaintiffs.

To the extent, however, that the Non-Dancer Plaintiffs and Defendants are unable to effect a settlement by July 22, 2011, the Non-Dancer Plaintiffs fully reserve their right to try all claims, as set forth in the original Proposed Joint Pretrial Order filed on March 4, 2011.

V. DAMAGES AND RELIEF

Plaintiffs are owed unpaid minimum wages, overtime, spread-of-hours, reimbursement of unlawful deductions, unreimbursed uniform purchase and laundering costs, liquidated damages, and interest. Certain plaintiffs are also owed damages for battery and retaliation. This section explains how the applicable laws are applied to calculate Plaintiffs' damages. In addition Appendix A sets forth "damages charts" calculating the approximate unpaid wages owed to each Plaintiff.¹

A. Statute of Limitations

The FLSA statutes of limitations should be equitably tolled in this case because Defendants failed to post required notices advising Plaintiffs of their FLSA and NYLL rights and because Plaintiffs were unaware of their rights until approximately the time they sought legal advice in early 2008. However, the damages charts set forth wages owed based on the three-year statute of limitations applicable to willful FLSA violations and the six-year statute of limitations applicable to NYLL violations. 29 U.S.C. § 255; N.Y. Lab. Law § 198(3).

For the three years prior to the date this action was filed, some Plaintiffs have claims that arise under both federal and state law. For such periods, the damages charts calculate the full unpaid wages owed under federal law, plus federal liquidated damages, and then any additional non-cumulative wages owed under state law such as spread-of-hours and state liquidated damages. Damages will be higher should the Court agree that the statute of limitations should be tolled.

Defendants dispute that the statute of limitations should be equitably tolled.

B. Minimum Wage Claims

Under both federal and state law, Plaintiffs were entitled to a minimum wage at the rate of $5.15 per hour for work performed on or before December 31, 2004. 29 U.S.C. § 206; N.Y. Lab. Law § 652. Under the NYLL, Plaintiffs were entitled to a minimum wage of $6.00 per hour from January 1, 2005 through December 31, 2005; $6.75 from January 1, 2006 through December 31, 2006; and $7.15 per hour thereafter. N.Y. Lab. Law § 652. The federal minimum wages at the time were lower, and thus our calculations incorporate the higher New York rate. Defendants paid certain Plaintiffs less than the minimum wage per hour for their work, and paid some Plaintiffs no wages at all. Accordingly, Plaintiffs are entitled to unpaid minimum wages for all hours worked.

In the damages charts, minimum wage violations are reflected in the “Actual Hourly Rate” column, which is calculated by dividing the amount in the “Wage per wk” column by the “Hrs per wk” column, to arrive at the hourly regular rate of pay. Unpaid minimum wages are reflected in the charts under the heading “Min. Wage Dam.” The figures in this column are calculated by multiplying the number in the corresponding “Hrs Per Week” column by the difference between the amounts in the corresponding “Actual Hourly Rate” and “NY Min Wage” columns. The resulting figure is then multiplied by the number in the “# of weeks” column. Where the “Actual Hourly Rate” equals or exceeds the “NY Min Wage” during a particular time period, there are no minimum wage violations reflected under “Min. Wage Dam.” for that time period.

Defendants dispute Plaintiffs’ entitlement to the damages sought, as Plaintiffs were either paid minimum wage or were independent contractors, and thus, not covered under N.Y. Lab. Law § 652. Furthermore, Defendants dispute the accuracy of the damages listed in Plaintiffs’ chart.

C. Overtime Claims

Plaintiffs worked varying amounts of overtime during different time periods and depending on job category. When employees work more than 40 hours in a workweek, employees must be paid no less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for each hour worked in excess of 40 hours. 29 U.S.C. § 207(a)(1); N.Y. Comp. Codes R. & Regs. tit. 12 § 142-2.2. If an employee’s regular rate of pay is less than the minimum wage, the overtime rate is calculated based on the highest applicable minimum wage. Federal law provides that if the state minimum wage is higher than the federal minimum wage, the federal overtime rate is calculated as one and one-half times the state minimum wage. 29 C.F.R. 778.5. When an employee is paid wages, the promised weekly wage does not include the overtime premium absent an explicit agreement to the contrary. See 29 C.F.R. 778.113; N.Y. Comp. Codes R. & Regs. tit. 12 § 142-2.2; see also Yang v. ACBL Corp., 2005 U.S. Dist LEXIS 31567 at *11 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 5, 2005); see also In re Cayuga Lumber, Inc., 2007 IBA No. PR 05-009 (September 27, 2007). Because Defendants did not pay any Plaintiffs time and a half for hours worked over 40 per week, Plaintiffs are entitled to the unpaid overtime premium for overtime hours worked.

Unpaid overtime wages are reflected in the damages charts under the heading “Overtime Dam.” The figures in this column are calculated by subtracting the number 40 from the “Hours Per Week” column, then multiplying that number by $\frac{1}{2}$ times the greater of the corresponding “Actual Hourly Rate” or “NY Min Wage” amounts. The resulting figure is then multiplied by the number in the “# of weeks” column. Where a worker did not work more than 40 hours during a particular time period, there are no overtime violations reflected under “Overtime Dam.” for that time period.

Defendants dispute that the Plaintiffs either: (a) worked overtime; or, (b) were not adequately compensated under the law for any and all overtime worked. To the extent Plaintiffs are independent contractors, they are not entitled, as a matter of law, to overtime, as they are not employees of Defendant Edita Bar & Restaurant, Inc. Furthermore, Defendants dispute the accuracy of the damages listed in Plaintiffs’ chart.

D. Spread-of-Hours Claims

Under the NYLL, an employer is required to pay an additional hour of pay at the minimum wage for each day that an employee works for more than ten hours (“spread-of-hours” wages). See N.Y. Lab. Law § 650 et seq.; N.Y.Comp. Codes R. & Regs. tit. 12 §142-2.4. Because Defendants did not pay spread-of-hours wages to Plaintiffs who worked more than 10 hours per day, those Plaintiffs are entitled to an extra hour’s pay at the minimum wage rate for every day they worked more than 10 hours.

Unpaid spread-of-hours wages are reflected in the damages charts under the heading “NY Spread hrs Dam.” The figures in this column are calculated by multiplying the figure in the corresponding “Days per wk w/ 10+ hrs” column by the figure in the corresponding “NY Min. Wage” column. The resulting figure is then multiplied by the number in the “# of weeks” column. Where a worker did not work over 10 hours a day on any day during a particular time period, there are no spread-of-hours violations reflected in the chart for that time period.

Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs were employees, thus triggering any obligation for “spread-of-hours” wages. Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs were not adequately compensated for the work that was performed. Furthermore, Defendants dispute the accuracy of the damages listed in Plaintiffs’ chart.

E. Unlawful Deductions/ Entry Fees and Lateness Fines

Defendants required the Dancer Plaintiffs to pay a $10.00 or $11.00 fee at the start of each shift, starting in approximately 2006. Under the NYLL, an employer may not make any unlawful deduction from the wages of an employee or require an employee to make any payment to the employer by separate transaction. N.Y. Lab. Law § 193. Because Defendants charged these Plaintiffs fees to work, and charged them fines for various reasons, these Plaintiffs are entitled to reimbursement of unlawful deductions. Entrance fees are calculated in the Dancers’ damages spreadsheet under the heading “Entrance Fees per week.” The amount listed is based on each Dancer’s workweek of five days per week during the relevant time period, which came to a weekly entrance fee payment of $50.00 starting in January 2006 and $55.00 starting in mid-2007. These damages are only calculated for Dancer Plaintiffs.

Defendants also required the Dancers to pay a fine if they were late for work or if they missed work. The amounts of the fines paid by each Dancer Plaintiff vary in amounts to be determined at trial and are not calculated in the damages chart.

Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs can recover for “unlawful deductions” as the Dancer Plaintiffs were independent contractors who were permitted to work within Edita’s Bar & Restaurant for a fee that was charged up front. As the Dancer Plaintiffs are not employees, they are unable to recover under N.Y. Lab. Law § 193. Furthermore, Defendants dispute the accuracy of the damages listed in Plaintiffs’ chart.

F. Uniforms

1. Uniform Costs

Defendants required the Dancers to purchase required uniforms with their own money. The Dancers were also required to purchase the use of lockers from Defendants to store these uniforms and personal items. Under the NYLL, an employer must reimburse an employee for the cost of a required uniform no later than the time of the next payment of wages. N.Y. Comp. Codes R. & Regs. tit. 12 § 142-3.5(c). Dancer Plaintiffs are owed additional amounts to be determined at trial for the unreimbursed cost of purchasing the uniforms and the use of the lockers.

Defendants' dispute Plaintiffs' use of the term "required." More importantly, the Dancer Plaintiffs are not employees of Defendant, and as such, Defendants had no obligation to reimburse Plaintiffs for their purchase of clothing.

2. Cost of Laundering Uniforms

Defendants did not launder or maintain the required uniforms or reimburse the Dancers for doing so. When an employer does not launder or maintain the required uniform for its employees, and an employee works more than 30 hours per week, the employer is required to pay the employee, in addition to the minimum wage, $6.40 per week prior to December 31, 2004; $7.45 per week on and after January 1, 2005; $8.40 per week on and after January 1, 2006, and $8.90 per week on and after January 1, 2007. N.Y. Comp. Codes R. & Regs. Tit. 12 § 142-3.5(c). The Dancers are therefore owed these weekly amounts for Defendants' failure to pay the cost of laundering required uniforms. Unpaid uniform laundering expenses are reflected in the charts under the heading "Weekly Laundering damages." The figures in this column are calculated by multiplying the figure in the corresponding "Weekly Uniform Laundering" column by the figure in the “# of weeks” column. These damages are only calculated for Dancer Plaintiffs.

Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs were employees, thus triggering any obligation with respect to the laundering of uniforms. Furthermore, Defendants dispute the accuracy of the damages listed in Plaintiffs’ chart.

G. Fair Labor Standards Act Liquidated Damages

An employer who violates the FLSA’s minimum wage and overtime requirements is liable for any unpaid minimum wages or overtime compensation “and an additional equal amount as liquidated damages.” 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). Therefore, in addition to their unpaid minimum and overtime wages arising under the FLSA, Plaintiffs are entitled to 100% liquidated damages on the portions of their claims which arise under the FLSA. In the damages charts, the “FLSA Liq. Dam” column calculates 100% FLSA damages on the amounts reflected in the “Min Wage Dam.”, “Overtime Dam” and, for the Dancer Plaintiffs, the “Entrance Fee Damages”. One hundred percent of the FLSA damages are calculated for the three years immediately preceding the date this action was filed, going back to April 10, 2005.

The Defendants dispute that they have violated the FLSA, and as such, Plaintiffs are not entitled to liquidated damages.

H. New York Labor Law Liquidated Damages

Under the NYLL, an employee may be awarded liquidated damages constituting an additional 25% of the total wages owed by the employer “upon a finding that the employer’s failure to pay the wage[s] required ... was willful.” N.Y. Lab. Law §198². Because Plaintiffs

² NYLL liquidated damages are considered punitive in nature, while FLSA liquidated damages are considered compensatory in nature. Relying on this distinction, the Southern District of New York has will prove that Defendants' failure was willful, Plaintiffs are entitled to 25% liquidated damages on the portions of their claims which arise under the NYLL.

In the damages charts, the "NY Liq. Dam." column calculates 25% New York state law damages on the amounts reflected in the "Min Wage Dam.", "Overtime Dam", "Weekly Laundering Damages", "NY Spread hrs. Dam" and, for the Dancer Plaintiffs, the "Entrance Fee Damages". Twenty five percent of the New York damages are calculated for the six years immediately preceding the date this action was filed, going back to April 10, 2002.

The Defendants dispute that they have violated the NYLL, and as such, Plaintiffs are not entitled to liquidated damages. Furthermore, Defendants dispute the accuracy of Plaintiffs' damages chart.

I. CPLR Prejudgment Interest

New York law provides for the reimbursement of interest earned on withheld wages and overtime. C.P.L.R. § 5001. Under Section 5001, interest accrues at 9% per annum computed on a simple interest basis from "the earliest ascertainable date the cause of action existed." C.P.L.R. §§ 5001; 5004. Prejudgment interest is not owed, however, on that portion of wages to which FLSA liquidated damages are applied because FLSA damages and 9% CPLR interest are compensatory in nature and may not be simultaneously counted on the same unpaid wage amounts. Therefore, Plaintiffs are entitled to 9% simple interest per year for each week in which they are owed wages under state law, which is reflected in the "NY Prejudgment Int." column. Prejudgment interest for the time period from April 10, 2005 forward is calculated only on the amounts in the "NY Spread hrs. Dam" column because FLSA compensatory damages apply to the rest of the wages owed during this period. Prejudgment interest for the time period from found that a plaintiff may receive both forms of liquidated damages on unpaid wages owed. See Ke v. Saigon Grill, Inc., 595 F. Supp. 2d 240 (S.D.N.Y. 2008).

April 10, 2002 through April 10, 2005 is calculated on the sum of the amounts in “Min Wage Dam.”, “Overtime Dam”, “NY Spread hrs. Dam” and, for the Dancer Plaintiffs, the “Entrance Fee Damages”, because unpaid wages accrued during these years are not subject to FLSA compensatory damages.

The amounts subject to prejudgment interest are then multiplied by 9% for each year of interest accrued. The number of years of interest accrued is calculated based on the length of time between the midpoint of each work period (the date halfway between the dates in the “Start Date” and “End Date” columns and March 4, 2011). Pre-judgment interest due to Plaintiffs increases each day and therefore, must be recalculated post-trial.

The Defendants dispute that they have violated New York law, and as such, Plaintiffs are not entitled to prejudgment interest. Furthermore, Defendants dispute the accuracy of Plaintiffs’ damages chart.

J. Damages for Battery

Plaintiffs Diana Trejos, Rosa Damaris Lopez, Berky Lopez, and Liliana Ruiz Fierro seek compensatory and punitive damages for Defendant Ruiz’s assaults and batteries, in amounts to be determined at trial.

Defendants dispute that Plaintiffs Trejos, Lopez, Lopez, and Fierro were subjected to battery. Furthermore, this claim should be dismissed against Edita’s Bar and Restaurant, Inc., as well as Edith D’Angelo individually, as even if it is determined that Ruiz engaged in the alleged conduct (which he did not) such action was not taken in the course of his performing his normal job duties and responsibilities, and cannot be attributed to Edita’s Bar and Restaurant, Inc. or D’Angelo. Furthermore, Plaintiffs cannot meet the standard necessary for an award of punitive damages, and cannot show that they suffered any actual damages in order to collect compensatory damages.

K. Costs and Attorneys' Fees

The FLSA and the NYLL also entitle a Plaintiff, upon receiving a judgment for unpaid wages, to recover costs and reasonable attorneys' fees. See 29 U.S.C. 216(b); N.Y. Lab. Law § 198 (1-a). Defendants will be liable for such fees and costs upon any judgment in Plaintiffs' favor.

Defendants' represent that many of the fees, costs, and expenses that Plaintiffs have incurred during the course of this litigation were not reasonable, and do not believe that Plaintiffs will be considered a prevailing party under the law such that reasonable fees and costs are recoverable. Defendants' reserve their right to oppose any motion for fees should judgment be entered in Plaintiffs' favor.

VI. JURY OR BENCH TRIAL

The case shall be tried without a jury.

The parties estimate that this trial will take approximately five days.

VII. CONSENT TO MAGISTRATE JUDGE

The parties do not consent to trial by a Magistrate Judge.

9. Defendant Edita D'Angelo, a/k/a Edith D'Angelo, owns the Flamingo and is the only current shareholder. Ms. D'Angelo has been the sole owner and shareholder of the Flamingo since at least 2005.

15. The Dancers had a weekly schedule.
16. The arrival of each Dancer was maintained by a sign-in system at the Flamingo (the "Arrival Sheets").

17. Dancers were required to pay $10.00 for entry into the club at the start of each shift (the “Entry Fee”). This Entry Fee was increased to $11.00 some time in 2007.

B. Stipulations of Law

1. The Court has jurisdiction over Plaintiffs’ claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1337, 1367(a) and 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

2. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391.
3. At all times relevant to this action, Flamingo was an enterprise as defined by the FLSA, 29 USC § 203(r).
4. The FLSA defines an employee as “any individual employed by an employer.” 29 U.S.C. § 203(e)(1). It further defines to “employ” as including “to suffer or permit to work.” Id. § 203(g). “An entity ‘suffers or permits’ an individual to work if, as a matter of ‘economic reality,’ the entity functions as the individual’s employer.” Zheng v. Liberty Apparel Co., 355 F.3d 61, 66 (2d Cir. 2003).
5. In determining whether individuals are employees or independent contractors for purposes of the Fair Labor Standards Act, courts apply a test known as the economic reality test. See Rutherford Food Corp. v. McComb, 331 U.S. 722, 727 (1947); Brock v. Superior Care, Inc., 840 F.2d 1054, 1058-59 (2d Cir. 1988); see also Nationwide Mut. Ins. Co. v. Darden, 503 U.S. 318, 326 (1992).
6. A non-exhaustive list of relevant factors under this test includes: (1) the degree of control exercised by the employer over the workers; (2) the workers’ opportunity for profit or loss and their investment in the business; (3) the degree of skill and independent initiative required to perform the work; (4) the permanence or duration of the working relationship; and (5) the extent to which the work is an integral part of the employer’s business. See Zheng, 355 F.3d at 67; Brock, 840 F.2d at 1058-59. This Court has already adopted this framework in the course of this litigation. See Trejos et al. v. Edita’s et al., 08-CV-1477 (KAM) (SMG), 2009 WL 749891, at *1 (E.D.N.Y. Mar. 17, 2009).
7. The New York Minimum Wage Act defines an employee to include “any individual employed or permitted to work by an employer in any occupation.” N.Y. Lab. Law § 651(5). Given the overlap between the federal and state definitions of employee for purposes of the minimum wage, federal courts in New York have considered similar factors to those established by the Second Circuit to determine employee status under New York law. See, e.g., Trejos, 2009 WL 749891, at *1.
8. When determining whether the control factor of the economic reality test favors an employer-employee relationship, courts in the Second Circuit consider factors including whether the alleged employer (a) controlled employee work schedules or conditions of employment, (b) determined the rate and method of payment, (c) had the power to hire and fire the employees, and (d) maintained employment records. Barfield v. New York City Health and Hosps. Corp., 537 F.3d 132, 142 (2d Cir. 2008).

9. An employer must maintain detailed employment records for each employee pursuant to the New York Labor Law; N.Y. Lab. Law §§ 195 and 661; N.Y. Comp. Codes R. & Regs. tit. 12 § 142-2.6; the Fair Labor Standards Act; 29 U.S.C. § 211(c); 29 C.F.R. § 516.2(a).
10. Plaintiffs may testify as to their approximate recollections in order to establish by a preponderance of the evidence the dates and hours they worked and the pay, if any, that they received. The burden then shifts to Defendants to rebut Plaintiffs' testimony with documentary evidence of the precise amount of work performed or with evidence to negate the reasonableness of the inference to be drawn from the Plaintiffs' evidence. See Anderson v. Mt. Clemens Pottery Co., 328 U.S. 680 (1946); Reich v. Southern New England Telecomms. Corp., 121 F.3d 58, 67 (2d Cir. 1997); Yang v. ACBL Corp., 427 F. Supp. 2d 327, 335 (S.D.N.Y. 2005).

NOTE:

- * The chart above was created by Plaintiffs' attorneys and are based on information available at this time. Plaintiffs reserve the right to revise this chart as new information becomes available.
- * The following items are not included in the chart above: Attorneys' fees and costs; fees and fines paid by Dancers for absences or lateness; amounts paid by Dancers for theme-night-required costumes; and locker fees paid by Dancers. It also does not calculate damages for battery brought by Plaintiffs Trejos, R. Lopez, B. Lopez, and Fierro. Plaintiffs reserve the right to seek these amounts at trial.
- * This chart assumes the applicability of the Fair Labor Standards Act and New York Labor Law statutes of limitations of 3 years and 6 years, respectively. However, as Plaintiffs have alleged Equitable Tolling of the statutes of limitations in their Complaint, Plaintiffs reserve the right to do so at trial.
- * This chart is calculated as of July 18, 2011. Pre-judgment interest due to Plaintiffs increases each day.
